Sunnyside Colony. Arkansas

Sunnyside was located in a bend of the Mississippi River on a long narrow stretch of land cut off from the outside world by a circular lake (Lake Chicot) 22 miles long in the shape of a horseshoe across the Mississippi River from Greenville, Mississippi with entry by water or on one side by land. It was a cotton plantation divided into four parts - Sunnyside, Hyner, Hebron, and Fawnwood - purchased around 1892 by Prince Ruspoli of Italy and later owned by New York financier, Austin Corbin. Corbin knew that the rich delta lands could produce tremendous crops, and in association with Prince Ruspoli, who promised to send people from his lands in Italy, he wished to form a model Italian colony.

The first families left Italy in 1895 and arrived in New Orleans on November 29, 1895 aboard the "Chateau Yquem". They were then transported by steamboat to Greenville, Mississippi and then ferried across the river to Sunnyside. The peasants would be allotted twelve and one half acre lots and would become proprietors after twenty years. The company would provide housing, agricultural implements. The plantation already had its own railroad, sawmill and in. A church and school were planned for future construction. The Italians were to replace the black and convict labor previously used. They faced an unsanitary water supply and in the summer heat and mosquitoes which brought swamp fever with chills and fever. Another hardship that they faced was none of the overseers spoke Italian. They had mixed results from their first cotton crops. Over one third of the families remained in debt to the company after expenses for their voyage, supplies, equipment, and furnishings plus interest and advances were deducted from their cotton receipts.

Austin Corbin died in June 1896.

A second group of seventy two arrived from Italy in January 1886.

After Corbin's death, the plantation was leased to O. B. CRITTENDEN, Leroy PERCY, and Morris ROSENSTOCK. With little hope of solving immediate problems, bad water, mosquitoes, high interest and with increasing death and fevers the colony disbanded. Some followed Father Pietro BANDINI to Tontitown, some went to Irondale, Alabama. A few remained at Sunnyside. Father Pietro BANDINI was assigned to Sunnyside in 1896, when the Italians wrote to their Bishop in Italy asking for a priest to minister to their spiritual needs.

Of the 100 families who had gone there, 125 members had died that first year. Surrounded by swamps filled with mosquitoes they fell victim to malaria and swamp fever. Father BANDINI felt he had to find a new home for his people. He went to the Ozarks and west of Springdale there was a farm about to be abandoned and he bought it. Forty families followed Father BANDINI to Tontitown. Others who left settled in Knobview, Missouri (later changed to Rosati in 1931) and another group settled in Mississippi.

Father Joachim GALLONI came in September 1903. He boarded with Alessandro ALPE. One room was his bedroom, study and church for more than a year. Unable to get accommodations in Sunnyside, he built a little church in Lake Port, a short distance away. In 1905, he got possession of a corn crib in Sunnyside and improvised that for a church from 1905-1912.

Each adult at Sunnyside was taxed $15 a month for his support and collected by the company at 10% flat interest. He was made responsible for these fees and if the Italians were unable to pay or left before they were closed. To protect himself he encouraged them not to leave despite the injustices committed against them. By 1912, many families had left Sunnyside to live elsewhere. Father GALLONI left and moved to Lake Village. He was appointed pastor there July 1, 1913. He died December 23, 1933.

There were thirty two families who remained in Chicot County. They were:

The decent passage promised turned out to be one room in the hold of the ship where several families were packed in like cattle. The food was poor and not enough of it. The voyage took over a month arriving in New Orleans in November 1895, then transported by steamship to Sunnyside.

Colonist who harvested the first crop (1896-97) at Sunnyside were:

Fifteen families moved to Shelby, Mississippi with Charles CURIO as their interpreter and leader. From there some moved to Merigold, Mississippi; Alessandro AGUZZI, Ned MAZZANTI, Jim MAZZANTI and the GRASSI family. Those who moved to Greenville, Mississippi and bought land were: John BIONDINI, Mary MICCI, and sons, and the CHECHACCI family. In 1902, Ned MAZZANTI, Jim MAZZANTI and the GRASSI family moved back to Red Leaf, Arkansas.

In 1908 Alessandro AGUZZI, Ralph PETTINARI, Joe PETTRNARI, John CHECHACCI, Serafino SARTINIS, and Ned AGUSTONELLI moved to Cleveland, Mississippi.

There were thirty two families who remained in Chicot County. They were:

Early Ashley County Families

Thomas H. Baldy

Thomas H. BALDY has passed a useful and successful, although a rather uneventful life, and is now in the enjoyment of a fair income. He is ranked among the prosperous farmers of Ashley County, being the owner of 600 acres of fine bayou land, and although he does not farm it himself he attends to its management. His time is more fully occupied with merchandising, and with a stock of goods valued at $2,000 he does an annual business of about $8,000. This establishment was founded at Slemmons in 1888, and is admirably conducted. Mr. BALDY showing that he is the thorough master of this business. He is a native Alabamian, His birth occurring in 1838, and he is a son of Paul H. BALDY, who was a participant in the Indian War of 1836 under Jackson, and moved in the fall of 1842 to Arkansas, entering and purchasing land near Monticello first, afterward Fountain Hill. He was a justice of the peace here, a member of the Baptist Church, and died on January 29, 1868. Thomas H. BALDY obtained a limited early education, but at the age of eighteen years started out to make his own way in the world, and in 1860 entered land in Drew County, where he made his home until 1877, when he came to his present abode. In April, 1862, he became a member of Company C, Third Arkansas Infantry, afterward taking part in the battles of Fredericksburg, Gettysburg, and was taken prisoner at Front Royal, Virginia, being detailed to supply scouts. He was kept prisoner at Washington City for about eight months, when he was paroled and came home, which place he reached in 1864. His land is very fertile, and will average forty bushels of corn to the acre, one year yeilding sixty five bushels to the acre on the whole crop. He was married in 1861 to a daughter of Robert RODGERS, who has borne him two children, twins: Mary Frances and Martha Elizabeth, born April 20, 1870, the latter dying November 20, 1888. Mr. BALDY is a Democrat, a member of the A. F. & A. M., the K. of H, and he Has held the office of justice of the peace in both Drew and Ashley Counties, being elected to the position in the latter County in 1884, and holding the same for four years. He and his wife are members of the Christian Church, and are worthy and highly esteemed people. He is of French and Irish descent on his fathers side, and Welch and Scotch on his mother's.

W. J. CAMMACK

W. J. CAMMACK, farmer , Portland, Ark. The greater portion of the life of our subject has been passed within the borders of Arkansas, whither he moved with his parents in 1848, and under the training and influence of his father he was led to follow agricultural pursuits. He is now recognized as one of the progressive and substantial tillers of the soil in Ashley County. He was born in Bibb County, Ala., on October 6, 1827, and his parents, Lewis and Rhoda (COLEMAN) CAMMACK, were natives of Kentucky and Alabama, respectively. The CAMMACKS are of German extraction. The father moved to Alabama in 1818, was married in 1825, and was engaged in agricultural pursuits in that state, until 1848, when he came to Union County, Arkansas. Ten years later he moved to Ashley County, and here his death occurred in 1868. He reared a family of three sons and four daughters, three of whom are now living: Rosamond (wife of Doctor SHERRER) and Mary (widow Wiley RUCKLES). The mother died in 1849. W. J. CAMMACK passed his boyhood and youth in Alabama, received a common school education, and came with his father to Arkansas, in 1848, as stated above. He remained under the parental roof until 1855, and then October 4 of that year, he was united in marriage to Miss Mary J. GEORGE, daughter of Rev. Elias GEORGE, of Union Parish, La. Mr. CAMMACK remained in Union County until the breaking out of the war, and then enlisted in Company I, Thirty-first Louisiana Regiment. He was one of the few privates who went all the way through the battles of Port Hudson, Chickamauga Bayou, siege and surrender of Vicksburg. He was with the army on Red River, and was in many hard fought battles and severe skirmishes. After the war Mr. CAMMACK sold out in Union County, and moved to Ashley County, where he has since resided. He rented his farm and moved his family to Hamburg, in 1884, but returned to his plantation in the spring of 1890. He is the father of nine children: Low S. (wife of Robert J. KILGORE, of Union Parish, La.), Anna C. (wife of E. J. CAMMACK, of South Carolina), Sue M. (wife of George TUCKER, of Hamburg), Linn M. (wife of A. B. MACKLIN, of Texas), May, Rosa Lee, Howard D., W. Daniel, and Robert G. Mr. and Mrs. CAMMACK are members of the Baptist Church, and well respected in the community. Socially he is a Mason and politically sides with the Democratic party. He has been planting quite extensively, his principal crops being cotton and corn, and averages about a bale of cotton and twenty-five bushels of corn to the acre.

Dr. E. J. CHRISTIAN

physician, Portland, Ark.

J. D. CHRISTIAN, the father of the subject of this notice, born in Alabama, was one of the early settlers of Ashley County, Ark., and was one of the founders of Marie Saline Landing. on Ouachita River. He was married in Union County of that State to Miss Mary K. Lawson, who bore him six children, two now living: Dr. E. J., and Carrie, wife of J. M. AUSTIN, now a resident of Ashley County. The father was a member of the Masonic fraternity and also the Odd Fellows. During the late war he raised a company, the first taken from the county, and was embodied in the Third Arkansas, that joined the Army of Northern Virginia, remaining in the Confederate service until in May, 1864, when he was discharged on account of ill health. He died of Pneumonia in 1865. The mother died in 1875, of cerebro spinal meningitis. Dr. Christian was born in Ashley County, Ark., May 25, 1854, received a good practical education in the common schools of Ashley County, and in 1875 began the study of medicine under Dr. W. J. LOCKE, now of Petersburg, Ashley county, Ark. In 1876 and 1877 he followed farming and during 1878 and 1879 read medicine. During the fall and winter of the last named year he took his first course at Mobile, Ala. In May, 1880, he commenced practicing in Union Township, Ashley County, and soon built up an excellent reputation as a physician. In May, 1881, he came to Portland, was here during 1882, and in 1883 took his second course of lectures at Mobile, graduating in the spring of 1884. He was one of twelve, out of thirty-five applicants that graduated. He then returned to Portland, has practiced there ever since, and is one of the popular and successful physicians of the county. In April and May he took a six weeks' post graduate course at New Orleans. The Doctor is a member of the K. of P. In politics he always votes the Democratic party. Under same conditions the Doctor is decidedly of the opinion that the general health is as good on the bayou as in the hills. The disease is mostly of a malarial nature and yields to a thorough course of eliminating tonic and specific treatment.
